The Visionary

Joan is a Professional Success Coach, Trainer, Entrepreneur, Published Author, International Radio Personality and Dynamic Speaker. Joan's interactive approach as a speaker goes beyond being motivational. It brings lasting and trans-formative change to businesses, groups and individuals. As a coach and motivational speaker Joan's mission is to help people awaken to the possibilities in their personal and professional lives. For over 10 years, Joan has been empowering and equipping people to embrace their true potential with a winning attitude, to get pass the roadblocks sabotaging their success, to be limitless, and to create a positive mindset.

The Mission

Joan founded the Women's Entrepreneur Expo, (WEE) LLC in 2008. Joan began her ambitious quest to develop WEE is due in part to her passion to help motivate other like-minded women. Her persistence and commitment to develop an avenue for women to come together has been constant for the past seven years. Over the years, the platform that Joan created has become a life changing opportunity. One of the primary central focuses of the expo is for women to network with business leaders to learn about starting their own business or enhancing their business.

The Credentials

Joan holds a Bachelor's degree in Human Services, a Master's degree in Social Work, and is currently pursuing her (DBA) Doctorate in Business Administration, with a focus on Management. Her work experiences have given her the opportunity to work collaboratively with health care professionals, criminal justice professionals, and in various capacities with youth and adults. Joan prides herself in teaching others how to become effective leaders, by focusing on various areas of leadership including: Attributes of Leadership, Principles of Leadership, Leading by Example, and Decision Making. Joan is an approved Trainer for the Developmental Disabilities Administration (DDA), an approved Trainer through Maryland State Department of Education (MSDE) Office of Childcare Credentialing Branch, and an Advisor for the Child Development Associate (CDA) National Credentialing Program, and Success Coach at Transformational Leadership Academy. Joan is a woman of integrity, a woman with relentless determination to help promote women-owned businesses.

About Us

The company was founded by Joan Henry in 2008. Joan began her ambitious quest to develop WEE is due in part to her passion to bring together businesswomen of diverse occupations and to provide opportunities for them to enhance their business and help others grow personally and professionally through leadership, education, networking support, and national recognition. Her persistence and commitment to develop an avenue for women to come together has been constant for the past seven years. Over the years, the platform that Joan created has become a life changing opportunity to help others become successful in business. One of the primary central focuses of the expo is for women to network with business leaders to learn about starting their own business or enhancing their business.

According to the Center for Women's Business Research, $10 million firms are owned by women (50% or more), employing more than 13 million people, and generating $1.9 trillion in sales in 2014. Due to this statistical information, the topics that are presented during the expo are informative, educational, and motivational. To ensure that she is able to promote entrepreneurship both locally and internationally, Joan became an International Talk Show Host, and can be heard every Saturday at 2pm EST on The Joan Henry Radio Show on www.mwhyradio.com. Her shows can also be downloaded from iHeart Radio, MWHY app, Google Play Music, iTunes, and many other podcasting sites. Joan also launches a new TV talk show, titled "WEE TV Talk Show" with Joan and Ebony" Joan would like to establish quality relationships, and be an agent of change in the lives of the people with whom she comes in contact, directly and indirectly. With that goal in mind, Joan has authored and published a book titled "The Power of A Positive Mindset" (www.joanhenrytheauthor.com).

Joan holds a Bachelor's degree in Human Services from the Audrey Cohen College in Manhattan, New York, a Master's degree in Social Work from Howard University in Washington, DC, and is currently pursuing her (DBA) Doctorate in Business Administration, with a focus on Management, with Grand Canyon University in Phoenix, AZ. Her work experience has given her the opportunity to work collaboratively with health care professionals, criminal justice professionals, and in various entrepreneurial capacities, to include motivational speaking at various seminars, shelters, and school.

Joan is an approved Trainer for the Developmental Disabilities Administration (DDA), an approved Trainer through Maryland State Department of Education (MSDE) Office of Childcare Credentialing Branch, and an Advisor for the Child Development Associate (CDA) National Credentialing Program. Joan is a woman of integrity, a woman with relentless determination to help promote women-owned businesses. As an entrepreneur, she knows the benefits of being a business owner. As she put is "Only the best is good enough"

Terry K Williams

Founder and Chief Executive Officer of Shea Butter Like Whoa LLC

Empowerment

PANELIST

Terry K. Williams Sr. is a native Washingtonian and is the founder and Chief Executive Officer of Shea Butter Like Whoa LLC. Williams demands perfection in all Shea Butter Like Whoa body and hair care products — only the purest of natural ingredients are used to manufacture them in order to provide strong elements of health and beauty. As a result, Williams' focus is to always provide customers with "quality over quantity".

Terry received his Bachelor of Science Degree in marketing from Bowie State University and continued with classes in herbal studies at Maryland University of Integrated Health (formerly Tai Sophia Institute). He worked for the National Institute on Minority Health and Health Disparities, an entity of the National Institutes of Health. He has always had an entrepreneurship passion and became extremely intrigued once introduced to Shea Butter in 2004 and began creating health products using plant based ingredients for family and friends. With that passion still flowing, Shea Butter Like Whoa was established in 2005 in Washington, DC.

Since the inception of Shea Butter Like Whoa, he has gained notoriety for his body and hair care products. In 2013, Terry was featured in an article in KAMOY Magazine (kamoymagazine.com). He has participated in local and national natural hair care expose to not only grow the Shea Butter Like Whoa brand, but to engage directly with the customers of whom he serves. In 2011, he also had the opportunity to visit various villages in Nigeria to witness and learn how the women of Africa produce Shea Butter, which is also known as "woman's gold".

Giving back is also near and dear to Terry's heart. One of his many passions is working with young children and mentorship. In 2013, He was an invited guest speaker at a Youth Music Mentorship Program in Maryland. The camp is for kids who are interested in seeking a music career. He spoke to the youth about his experience in the corporate field and how he was able to launch his own company. He shared personal experiences to encourage, empower, and motivate this group of youth to have dreams and set goals. He instilled in them the ability to be successful and positive contributors to the community. In this spirit, He plans to establish a young entrepreneurs mentoring program through Shea Butter Like Whoa in the near future.

Ebony Wheeler

CEO & Founder at Brown Eyed Girl Yoga IBO at ACN

Event MC

DC native Ebony Wheeler started her Yoga and meditation journey in the summer of 2013. She began her practice through meditation at the “Sri Sri Center for Peace and Mediation” in Washington DC., where she started taking free yoga classes.

From that day she knew she’d found the thing she’d been missing in her life, "peace" within her own mind. For Ebony yoga has aided her in a total transformation of her life creating a more spiritually balanced lifestyle. Ebony started incorporating Yoga and Mindfulness into her youth work and organizing free events in her community and in 2016 decided to deepen her practice by attending teachers training.

In 2017 she received her 200 hour certification through Capitol Hill Yoga and is registered with Yoga Alliance.

She teaches various styles of yoga including Vinyasa flow, Power Yoga and Hatha Yoga. As a teacher Ebony focuses on breath work, safety and alignment while incorporating a range of asanas that allows students to explore their entire bodies.

Her classes are set to music that’s strategically customized for each class. Her classes are typically set to a temperature between 72-75 degrees.

Ebony follows a quote from BKS Iyengar “Yoga allows you to find an inner peace that is not ruffled and riled by the endless stresses and struggles of life” Ebony believes that one who focuses on balancing the mind body and spirit can achieve mastery of self , making it easier to handle the world.

Latisha McDougal

Owner and Producer of May We Help You, LLC and MWHY Radio Network

Expert & Empowerment

PANELIST
MODERATOR

When you hire May We Help You?, LLC and Radio Network's owner and lead trainer, Latisha M, you can expect valuable up-to-the minute information, actionable next steps, tons of passion and a few laughs. May We Help You? LLC started in 2004 as a business consultant and job placement firm. Creating jobs and helping owners Brand and Market their business with a slogan, Our Answer to Service is Always, Yes! While working and marketing in this area of expertise, MWHYLLC changed from job placement to building businesses. Allowing everyone; without fear of age, status, or experience; the opportunity to work at home in customer service and technical support positions with a partnership created by Arise.

February 2013 Latisha had a vision to start a radio show dedicated to members of MWHYLLC, who were all business owners or aspiring entrepreneurs. The show would assist all who tuned in with the tips and tools they would need to be successful, as well as introduce them to other products and services from national businesses. After airing shows once a week for many months, Latisha transformed May We Help You Radio Show into MWHY Radio Network, collaborating with different hosts to air 7 days a week.

As the network grew so did Latisha's speaking opportunities. Creating social media workshops, asked to speak at conferences, and corporate events was just a start her start. Latisha's presentation topics are engaging, easy to understand and always customized to ensure your audience walks away knowing their time was well spent. She takes the time to listen to you and understand your needs and corporate goals in order to create a presentation that will educate, entertain and empower your audience.

Since its start in 2004, May We Help You?, LLC and Latisha M's drive remains the same. Helping businesses to grow, networking people together, and helping to bridge the gap between entrepreneurs and the community. As a speaker, Latisha has delivered keynotes in front of large audiences, intimate breakout sessions and has led workshops on a wide range of social media topics that are relevant to companies of all sizes seeking to become more socially active in the way they do business. As a network, MWHY Radio continues to follow the path of growth and change in different industries, as they build upon new trends and resources they pass the knowledge off to you.

Meet & Greet

IN ADDITION TO THE SPEAKERS, YOU WILL HAVE THE OPPORTUNITY TO LEARN ABOUT OTHER ENTREPRENEURS AND HOW THEIR SERVICES CAN ASSIST YOU.
